

Alejandro Domínguez @agdws
 Dios tuya es la Honra y la Gloria, todo te debo a vos!

An ex-pupil has just been elected as President of the CONMEBOL (UEFA of South America). He Tweeted: Yours, God, is the Honour and the Glory. I owe everything to You.

3d We start back in school on February 2nd although the pupils don't come until the 11th. The heads have a meeting on the Tuesday and the next day the other staff return. That day we have our opening service and mini retreat. We have invited a pastor from another church. He was once chaplain to a school here. He came to our retreat the other year and we all really enjoyed his talks and benefitted from them and hope for the same again. We have a conference on February 4th and 5th. We invited some folks from our computer management system to come and teach us more. They are based in the USA and they finally agreed to send us 3 people. We have invited other schools that use the same system to join us. So we hope that will be very useful to us all.

Some boys have been doing their Military Service. One in the Navy.

We came to the end of our legal documents at the end of 2015. We finally completed a huge one for the Ministry of Labour containing all the labour laws. Our staff heard the lawyers presentation at the end of last term. Now they all have to read it through and sign to say they agree. It could be a long process and there is some resistance but it only contains what is already law so there isn't much anyone can do about it!! This is a document we are required to have by law and didn't know about before! We are still working on some school policies with the lawyer. Our aim is to get everything in good shape and in order so that when we come to leave the next person will have everything to hand.

Our building work continues! Our ramp never happened last year and in the end we changed architects. So, now we are about to install a lift to help people get to the top floor...not the pupils! - mainly too for all the food to be taken up there easily as our new canteen is on the top floor. The outside of the lift is well underway and we are now waiting for the actual lift to come from Brazil ready to be assembled here. We have plans for a ramp in the future but a more simple one. The main administrator's office is also being revamped. It's just outside Gwen's office too so that has become a dumping ground for all the other furniture whilst the offices are being done.

Thankyou for your support over the years. As we start a new year it is a blessing for us to know that you continue to pray for us. God Bless and love from, Gwen and Mags xxx